

VOTE FOR STRICKLIN FOR CONGRESS

MRS. COCHRAN IS POSTMISTRESS OF MAYSVILLE

Mrs. Zorayda Cochran is Appointed Postmistress of Maysville—Will Take Over Office Wednesday Morning.

Mrs. Zorayda Cochran received a telegram Monday from the Postoffice Department at Washington informing her of her appointment as Postmistress of Maysville. Mrs. Cochran was chosen from three who were certified by the Civil Service Commission to the Postoffice Department on Saturday as having made the highest averages in the examination held several months ago. The other two certified under the examination were Messrs. J. C. Rains and Stanley R. Lowrey. Messrs. W. H. Lynch and Patrick Sammons were also applicants but failed to qualify.

Mrs. Cochran will be checked in as Postmistress Tuesday and will take complete charge of the local office Wednesday morning succeeding Mr. M. F. Kehoe, who has been postmaster since President Wilson's first election. The city's new Postmistress is the widow of W. D. Cochran, one of Maysville's most prominent citizens and Kentucky's most prominent and active Republicans. She had the endorsement of some of the most prominent Republicans in the state of Kentucky for this appointment.

The appointment is a recess appointment and, of course, cannot be made permanent until the next session of Congress.

Mrs. Cochran is a very capable woman and it is certain that the patrons of the local postoffice will be given the best service possible.

MRS. SCHWARTZ HONORED BY REBEKAHS OF STATE.

Mrs. Margaret Schwartz, of this city, was highly honored by the Kentucky State Assembly of Rebekahs held at Paducah last week being re-elected treasurer of that body. In appreciation of her faithful services in this office of the past several years, the Assembly unanimously elected Mrs. Schwartz as Grand Representative to the Grand Assembly of the United States.

"THE UNLOVED WIFE" SEEN HERE TONIGHT

Unusual Play at Washington Theater This Afternoon and Tonight Will Attract.

Here is a play that is rich in humor, speeded with sentiment, bubbling with amiable philosophy and fragrant with charm. It is delightfully written and just as delightfully acted. For "The Unloved Wife," a new play in three acts, which comes to the Washington theater, Monday, matinee and night, November 6, with matinee for ladies only, is a modern version of woman and super-woman.

We trust these comments will convey the impression that "The Unloved Wife" is a radiant success. Its story unfolding. How much deception should a woman tolerate on the part of her husband? Is more than sufficiently novel, and the development of the plot a sheer delight.

The production is even more effective than "East Lynne," "Camille," "Du Barry," or "The Easiest Way."

STATE CHAIRMAN OF REPUBLICANS IS OPTIMISTIC

Hunter Pleased With Conditions on the Eve of Congressional Elections—No Danger Seen.

A Louisville dispatch says: R. W. Hunter, chairman of the Republican Central Committee, is optimistic over the outcome of Tuesday's election in Kentucky and predicts a change in the political complexion of the next Congress insofar as this state is concerned, according to a statement made public Saturday.

Mr. Hunter also declared in his statement that Lilburn Phelps, Republican nominee for appellate judge in the third district, easily will win in his race with D. A. McCandless, Democrat.

The full statement issued Saturday by Mr. Hunter on behalf of the Republican organization follows:

"The sterling character, splendid ability and the clean campaign waged by Lilburn Phelps, Republican nominee for Judge of the Court of Appeals, contrasted with the partisan attempt to arouse race prejudice and bitter feeling characterizing the opposition, has earned him the confidence and respect of the voters of both parties."

"Judge Phelps will carry the district by a larger majority than Harding or Ernst did in 1920."

"Reports from the third congressional district indicate the election of W. O. Moats, who has proved too strenuous a campaigner for his opponent, R. Y. Thomas."

"The fifth district will elect Governor M. T. Thatcher by a majority of 7,000 to 10,000."

"Late advises from both the tenth and eleventh districts indicate a slight falling off of the vote in both parties, with most apathy in the Democratic ranks."

"Congressman John W. Langley in the tenth and Congressman J. M. Robison in the eleventh will hardly know they have opposition."

"J. H. Stricklin is making an active campaign in the ninth, with splendid prospects of taking the measure of the present incumbent."

"In the first, second and eighth party workers hope to make a good showing."

"The Republicans have no candidate against Ben Johnson in the fourth. They also left a clear field to the Democratic nominees in the sixth and the seventh congressional districts."

"The election next Tuesday in Kentucky will result in an increase of at least one Republican member of Congress, the return of Republicans from each of the three districts now represented by Republicans, and the certain election of a Republican judge of the Court of Appeals."

MR. RICHARD APPLAGATE DIES.

Mr. Richard Applegate, aged 68 years, well known resident of the Orangeburg neighborhood, died Monday morning at his home after an illness of only a few days. Mr. Applegate was stricken with apoplexy on last Tuesday. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters. Funeral will be from the Orangeburg Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock and burial will be in the Maysville cemetery.

CHURCH REFUSES RESIGNATION INCREASES OVERLEY'S PAY

Ashland Methodist Church Endorses Pastor—Present Him With Purse And Increase His Salary.

An echo of the arrest on November 2 in Ashland, Ky., of the Rev. E. R. Overley, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of that city and former pastor of Third Street Methodist Episcopal church, Maysville was heard in the Ashland church Sunday following in the morning services.

As the worshippers started to leave the church the Rev. Mr. Overley called on them to keep their seats while he spoke a few words. Referring to his arrest which followed an altercation between him and the former pastor of the Ashland church, the Rev. T. Howard Jones, now of Youngstown, Ohio, over a prayer meeting, the Rev. Mr. Overley tendered his resignation.

"In view of the arrest and fine of $20 assessed against me the next day," the Rev. Mr. Overley said, "I have decided to resign."

His announcement was followed by protest of his congregation which resulted in an unanimous refusal to accept his resignation, and the matter was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned when members of the congregation gave their pastor a purse of $200 and raised his salary to show their confidence in him.

FAMOUS OLD LIVERY IS DISCONTINUED.

Public sale of the property of the Parker & Riley Livery barn in Second street was held Monday. Messrs. Parker & Riley will retire from the livery business. DIRECTORS OF RED CROSS ARE CHOSEN SATURDAY

Officials of Mason County Chapter Are Chosen and Plans Are Being Laid For Annual Campaign Soon To Be Held.

At a meeting of the Mason County Chapter of the American Red Cross, at the American Legion Hall, Sutton street, Maysville, Kentucky, on Saturday, November 4, 1922, the following persons were elected Directors: Mrs. Dr. Browning, Germantown; Mrs. T. T. Ashbury, Fern Leaf; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holton, Moransburg; Mrs. Margaret Otto, Springdale; A. H. Dillon, Sardis; Mrs. J. Larue Osborne, Dover; Mrs. Robert Downing, Washington; John I. Claybrooke, Washington; Mrs. Robert Watson, Murphysville; Mrs. Nelle Kachler, Helena; Mr. Sanford Roff, Mr. James Williams, and Mrs. Gus Brooks, Mayslick; Mrs. Cleveland Smart, Pluggtown; Mrs. Scott Stevenson, Hilltop; Miss Sallie Brannon, Lewisburg; Mrs. Walter Worthington, Minerva; Mrs. Carrie Cooper, Orangeburg, Ky.

The wounds of war are not healed in a day nor in a year; there are lots of boys in Mason county who at the time of their discharge seemed capable of resuming their ordinary civilian duties, but who have later found themselves breaking at the first approach of strenuous labor, as the result of the terrible exposure, nervous strain and physical exhaustion incident to their service for their country; there are others who, returning to civilian life, found themselves without employment, out of touch with methods of obtaining adequate support, many of them friendless in the midst of the whirl of life, many of them with wives and children dependent upon their efforts, who are still helpless in the face of grim necessity.

We would like very much indeed for each one of the directors to be present at the American Legion Hall, on Sutton street, Maysville, Kentucky, on next Saturday, November 11, 1922, as

WOOD-MOOSE

Miss Eleanor Wood Surprises Friends By Marriage to Mr. James Moose At Catlettsburg Saturday.

The many local friends of Miss Eleanor Wood, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. C. L. Wood, of Front street, were greatly surprised Sunday at the announcement of her marriage at Catlettsburg on Saturday to Mr. James Moose, of Little Rock, Ark.

Miss Wood has been employed for the past few months as a feature writer on the Ashland Independent and Mr. Moose, who Miss Wood had met while a student in the Columbia University school of Journalism, had visited her there for the past few days. The happy couple came to Maysville Sunday to visit the bride's parents and will leave in a few days for Little Rock where they will make their home.

The bride is a most attractive and talented young lady. The groom is a very capable young gentleman and is engaged in the bank business in the western city. The many local friends of the bride extend heartfelt congratulations and best wishes.

DEMPSEY IN KENTUCKY.

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight pugilistic champion of the world, was a visitor in Kentucky last week. Dempsey spent his time in Warfield and Kermitt, Ky., also going to Williamson, W. Va., for a few days. The champion was given a rousing reception in all three places. Dempsey is a native of Logan, W. Va.

We have to make preparations for the Red Cross drive, which starts on November 12th, 1922. We feel sure that every one will respond freely to this drive, because everybody knows what the Red Cross means. This drive is for membership dues, and it only costs $1.00 to be a member of this wonderful organization, but that does not preclude you from giving more, if you desire. Let every Director please be present, Saturday, November 11th, Armistice Day. MASON COUNTY CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS.

WHOLE STATE SHOWS RETURN TO PROSPERITY

Government Reports Recovery From Unemployment In Every City In Kentucky Except Louisville—Encouraging Reports.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Kentucky is sharing in the general industrial improvement shown by the monthly report of the United States employment service to exist throughout the greater part of the United States. "A marked recovery from the temporary curtailment in employment of last month" is officially reported for Kentucky in the report, issued today.

An increase in employment is noted in twelve of the fourteen major industrial groups, with tobacco manufactures and the liquor and beverage industry alone showing slightly decreased employment. Out of 65 leading industrial cities, 56 show increased employment for the month, eight show decreases and Columbus, Ohio, shows the same number of employed persons for the last two months. In these 65 cities, 1,428 concerns each employing more than 500 persons, had 52,867 more persons on their payrolls October 31 than on September 30.

The eight cities which show decreased employment for the month are Louisville, Ky.; Toledo and Dayton, Ohio; Indianapolis, Ind.; Perth Amboy, N. J.; Fall River, Mass.; Peoria, Ill., and San Francisco, California.

"Every town and city in the state," says the report on Kentucky, "shows an increase with the exception of one."

Today is the last day for discount of November first gas bills.

GUESSED WRONG, AGAIN

The Democrats would never make any money trying to locate the pea under the shell at a country fair.

They get in wrong on every occasion. It is evident the party was born in the dark of the moon.

Several months ago there was a primary election in Indiana for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, and the candidates were the Hon. Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, one-time senator from that state, and the Hon. Harry S. New, the senior senator, who desired a renomination. The result showed that Beveridge was a winner by a substantial majority.

And how the Democratic press did chortle. They fairly made their sides ache with ribald glee. They said one to another: "Lo, we have the Republicans on the hip! Sound the loud timbre!! We have the pesky Republicans on the hip! The party has gone to pieces, we shall go up and possess the land." That was in the summer solstice and the corn in the Indiana bottoms was beginning to crack and be afflicted with growing pains.

The other day the Republicans of Ohio opened their campaign. And who do you suppose was the principal speaker? None other than this selfsame Albert Jeremiah Beveridge. And whose election did he advocate with all the eloquence of a former Ohio man? None other than the Hon. Carmi Thompson for governor and the Hon. Simeon D. Fess, named for the son of Leah, for United States Senator.

And who is Carmi Thompson? None other than a former secretary of state in Ohio, whose first nomination was dictated by Uncle Mark Hanna twenty years ago. Thompson is a past patriarch in the ranks of what the Democratic press is pleased to term the standpaters. Of all the clan, none is so standpat as he. And he has never been anything else. And who is Fess? President of Antioch college at Yellow Springs, who, although an educator at the time of his first election to the Sixty-third Congress, was one of the "old guard" in Ohio and led the parade every time there was a "meetin'" in the old Seventh Congress district.

So the hopes of the Democratic press that Beveridge, the Progressive, would refuse to join the Harding Republicans in Ohio have disappeared like the baseless fabric of a vision and left not a wrack behind.

It is an opportune time, before the mourners gather for the interment of the organization equipped with such a poor guess, to gnaw a file and flee to the mountains of Hepsidam, where the lion roareth and the whangdoodle mourneth for its first-born. "Selah! The two wings of the party are flapping together in Ohio and Indiana. The Democratic camel will not be allowed to get its nose even inside the tent, the way it looks now, as the saying is.—Los Angeles Times.

WHAT THE HOME MARKET MEANS

Americans are not only the greatest producers, but they are also the greatest consumers on earth. Our annual production of wealth is estimated at around $60,000,000,000 a year, while our total consumption runs to three-fourths or more of that amount. No other nation ever did or ever could expend $40,000,000,000 a year in providing itself with food, clothing, housing and luxuries.

That is why the American market is such a rich prize, and the foreign producers are so anxious to get into this market—but it doesn't explain why the democratic free traders are so anxious to admit them to compete with American producers on the unfair basis of foreign standards. A protective tariff is designed to bring foreign costs up to American standards; the free trade policy advocated by the democrats will force American costs down to the foreign level, or put American factories out of business, which means the same thing in the end.

When American wages are lowered to the rate paid abroad, or American mills are closed, the farmer's chance of selling his produce to the home consumer is lessened. Farm prices must come down accordingly, or the stuff can not be sold. If we are told, and the democrats continually repeat the statement, that the farmer's prosperity depends on the European market, let us examine the record.

In 1921, 5,000,000 American workers were out of employment; the export of foodstuff was greater than ever in history, and what followed?

In that year, according to the records of the Department of Commerce, the American farmer exported 279,948,641 bushels of wheat, 60,000,000 bushels more than he sent abroad in 1920, twice as much as he exported in 1913, and five times the average exportation of the period 1909 to 1913, and more than at any other time in the history of the nation. In 1921 the farmers of the United States sold abroad 129,000,000 bushels of corn, against 23,000,000 bushels in 1920 and 23,000,000 bushels in 1919, and an average of 41,000,000 bushels for the 1909-1913 period, and more than ever has been sent abroad in a single year before. Dairy and meat products went across the water in similar proportions.

In other words, the American farmer had the European market and sold there more than he ever did before, and went broke.

Why? He was cut off from the home market. Five million men out of work had lost their buying power. This has been restored to them in a large measure, and the farmer is now assured of a chance to sell his produce at home and at a better price than Europe can afford to pay. If experience of the last two years has taught any lesson, it ought to be the value of the home market.—Omaha Bee.

HARDING AND 1924

All other efforts to create Republican dissension having failed the Democrats finally started the story that Harding will not run for the presidency again, the hope of the Democrats being thus to arouse rivalries. It won't work. Mr. Harding will not have much to say about running for a second term, provided his health keeps fairly good. If he keeps on with the splendid record he has made thus far, he will undoubtedly be renominated in spite of anything he could do. A man once honored by nomination and election could not refuse renomination unless failing health demanded, and Mr. Harding seems to be enjoying health and strength. If Mr. Harding continues to make good, his re-election is inevitable.

COMMENT

Another reason Kentucky didn't beat Centre Saturday afternoon is that they were not able.

Saturday's fire at Cincinnati practically wiped out all of the old familiar steamers in this section of the Ohio valley. The Island Queen has for many years been Cincinnati's best known excursion steamer while the Tacoma is the last of a fleet of famous old packets. There's not a packet left in this district that was known twenty-five years ago.

We've heard a great deal about that automobile that was going to put Henry Ford out of business but we notice that the "Baby Lincolns" rattle on, that Henry's income tax continues to grow with each report.

Tomorrow is going to be a big day in Ohio. There's to be an election here too but no one seems to know much about it.

People who would not think of going into a local merchant's store and asking him for several articles he has on display there, will not bat an eye at asking a newspaper man to contribute a column of his space to advertise something in which they are interested. If the publisher finally surrenders, being overcome at the nerve of the party, he may then have to purchase a ticket for the entertainment he is advertising.

Maysville and Mason county are both on their good behavior just now. There are but four prisoners in the Mason county jail today.

Today is County Court Day. That don't mean as much in Maysville as it did a number of years ago. While Court Day always brings many country people to town, there is not the trading of stock here that there was only a few years ago. Why Maysville is losing ground as a stock trading center has not been explained. It appears that the counties nearer the mountains are becoming the big stock trading counties on Court Court day.

The Public Ledger crew appreciates Col. J. Barbour Russell's kindness in presenting each member with a package of "Cardinal Rolled Oats." If the oats make as big a hit as the famous band for which they were named, the Colonel will soon have to have an oats factory grinding out the breakfast food.

What The L&N Means To The State Of Kentucky

The subject announced by the above headline is much too exhaustive to be treated in one advertisement and will, for the benefit of readers of this newspaper, be divided into several bulletins, to appear from time to time in these columns. The statements will be brief, pointed, and impressive, and the management bespeaks for them your careful reading.

Approximate number of employees in the state of Kentucky	22,216
Approximate yearly payroll	$38,600,452
Annual state, county and city taxes	$1,244,000
Approximate number of passenger trains operated daily in this state	244
Approximate number of freight trains operated daily in this state	341

Accepting the census bureau's figures, the average American family is composed of 4.3 persons—which would mean 546,306 families in Kentucky. Of this number, one out of every twenty earns his livelihood with the L. & N. Railroad. The national average annual income of family heads is $933.00,—that of L. & N. employees in Kentucky is $1,737.00.

Direct, through-passenger service is afforded the people of Kentucky by the L. & N.—to St. Louis, Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans and other population and trade centers of the South, including Florida and the Gulf Coast, and with direct connections through Cincinnati to all Eastern points.

30,000 BUSHELS OF RYE FOR COVER CROP BEING PLANTED

Lexington, Ky. —More than 30,000 bushels of rye, most of which is of the Rosen variety, is being used by Christian county farmers this fall as seed for cover crops that are being planted to protect fields from erosion and leaching during the coming winter, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist of the College of Agriculture, who has just returned from a trip to that section of the state. Despite the fact that Christian county in the past has been one of the leading wheat producing counties in the state, the acreage of cover crops seeded this fall is expected to exceed that of wheat.

The seeding of cover crops on land that grew cultivated crops during the summer just past is now in full swing in practically every section of the state. The importance of this farm practice has been stressed during the last few years by the college extension division with the result that the acreage of such crops bids fair to be increased in many counties of the state during the present fall.

Christian county farmers believe that Rosen rye is especially satisfactory as a cover crop because of the vigorous growth which it makes. They also find that it stools out more than common rye, one bushel of it being equal to one and one-half bushels of white rye. Although there are several other crops that are sowed to prevent soil washing and plant food leaching during the winter, rye is proving to be the most popular one in Christian county. This is especially true where the crop is to be used for grazing or turned under in the spring. Many tobacco, cowpeas, soybeans and corn fields are being seeded to the crop. In cases where farmers wish to grow a cover crop for grain that is to be harvested next year, barley is proving most popular. The yield of this crop has been around 30 bushels an acre on land that produced only seven or eight bushels wheat an acre.

Unsatisfactory yields obtained during the last few years from wheat, which in the past has served as a cover crop on many Christian county farms, have caused much of the increased use of rye this year. Wheat yields as low as seven or eight bushels an acre were reported in the county this year with the result that many farmers were compelled to take up the growing of some other cover crop that would give more profitable returns.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C.—"I am a Democrat, but my thorough study of this subject has convinced me that my party in its opposition to a shipping subsidy," exclaimed former Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, in an address before the City Club of Washington a few days ago. And he supported his views by a convincing array of facts and arguments that show the soundness of the Republican attitude.

That the most important reason for the building and maintenance of an American merchant marine is related to the national defense, was the first assertion of the speaker. He recalled the fact that during the Spanish-American war we were dependent upon foreign transports for the carrying of our men and supplies across the Pacific, and also asserted that when President Roosevelt sent the American fleet around the world, the battleships could not have gone even as far as Honolulu without the aid of colliers and supply ships operated under foreign flags and employed by the United States Government. If those auxiliaries had deserted the fleet abroad, it could not have returned home. At the beginning of our participation in the war in Europe, we were dependent upon foreign ships or commandeered foreign ships for transportation of our men and supplies.

Discussing the subject from the standpoint of finances, Senator Chamberlain said that in the last 100 years we have expended only a billion dollars on the improvement of rivers and harbors as aids to our commerce, while in the same time we have paid foreign ships twenty-eight billion dollars to carry our foreign commerce, yet "there are some people who will condemn Congress for extravagance in river and harbor appropriations." His exposure of the greater expenditures of American money for the support of foreign ships was greeted with hearty applause.

As another means of illustrating the unsoundness of employing foreign ships to carry our goods, he said that in the past seven years we have paid out $8,000,000,000 for the carrying of our foreign commerce—a sum nearly equal to the debt foreign countries owe us.

Senator Chamberlain expressed the kindest feeling toward the British people and said that the ties of blood relationship ought to make impossible any war between them and the people of the United States, but this is no reason why we should hesitate to adopt plans that will insure the carrying of the major portion of American commerce in American ships. "We do not aspire to carry the major portion of the commerce of the world. We do not envy Great Britain her predominance in world commerce. But we should aspire to carry a major portion of that part of world commerce that flows in and out of our own ports." That we are in no danger of approaching Great Britain's position in world commerce he indicated by saying that our effective merchant ships have a carrying capacity only about 22 per cent. of that of the ships that sail under the British flag.

Statistics were presented showing the lower cost of operating ships under German Japanese and other foreign flags, and the assertion was made that unless the United States is willing to retire entirely from the seas and leave the carrying of her goods to her competitors, this country must either go down to the foreign standard of wages and living or must adopt the policy of aiding our shipping by some sort of subsidy. He insisted that the policy of protection which has been applied to our industries—agriculture, manufacturing, etc., must also be extended to the merchant marine, which he asserted is one of the most important of all.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Maysville Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Maysville citizen who used the same and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Ben P. Fleming, county constable, 228 Limestone street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years when I have needed them. At times my kidneys got out of order and I suffered with a dull constant ache through the small of my back. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage. A box or so of Doan's never fails to relieve the trouble in a short time."

The above statement was given November 14, 1916, and on November 22, 1920, Mr. Fleming added: "I am glad to renew the statement I gave for Doan's some years ago as the cure they made for me has been permanent."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fleming had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y.
